Young Women Assemble.

A fine assembly of young women greeted Miss MacCorkle, the field secretary of the Young Woman's Christian Association, at the Masonic temple last night.

It was a representative group and the future of the Young Woman's Christian Association in Clarksburg was thoughtfully considered. Miss Nannie Lowe presided and gave a brief review of the history of the organization stating that the awakening of the women last spring through the Hamilton evangelistic services had caused them to see the importance of women pulling together for the things which go to make up true womanhood and for making possible certain privileges greatly needed by the girls of Clarksburg. Miss Lowe said that the lunch room had been most successful. It has served from thirty-five to forty people daily, met expenses and made a pleasant social center for young women who take their meals downtown at noon. The classes in English and sewing have likewise been appreciated by the groups of young women enrolled in them. Miss Lowe stated that the board of directors felt that they had not yet just what the young women of Clarksburg desire in the way of activities and interests in the Young Woman's Christian Association, and hence they felt the need of national guidance. Now that they have secured their help, Miss Lowe felt assured that the membership and the board of directors of the Clarksburg association would be able to develop an all-around organization. Miss MacCorkle was then introduced and she told of the success of the work in other nearby cities, and of the ideals and principles which shape the policies of this great woman's movement. One telling illustration which Miss MacCorkle gave was the testimony of a young business woman in an Ohio city, as to what the Young Woman's Christian Association had meant to her.

The young woman who was engaged to be married had taken a year's work in the home-making class. Miss MacCorkle was in the city shortly after her marriage, and was invited to lunch in her home. On the discussion of the Young Woman's Christian Association which took place, this young woman said: "Well, the Young Woman's Christian Association has been invaluable to me, one of the greatest interests of my life. I had been in business all of my life, and knew nothing of the many things which a home-maker should know. The matter of what points to consider in renting a house, the importance of drainage, good ventilation, testing of plumbing, etc., knowledge of rugs, curtain materials, furniture, etc., I knew nothing of. In the home-making class I learned this and more besides. I also took cooking at the Young Woman's Christian Association and now I have as attractive an apartment furnished with economy as one could wish, and I cooked this lunch."

Many other illustrations of the practical working of an association were given and then cards were given out on which those present stated the things they would like in the Clarksburg Young Woman's Christian Association, and signed up as willing to work to help secure them. A report on these cards will be made later, after it has been submitted to the board of directors tonight at its meeting in the rooms of the Young Woman's Christian Association.

One of the attractions of the meeting last night was two beautiful songs rendered by Miss Catherine Fiora.

WILSON'S REPLY

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Following is the text of the note cabled by Secretary Lansing to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin, with instructions to deliver it to the German minister of foreign affairs:

"The note of the Imperial German government under date of May 4, 1916, has received careful consideration by the government of the United States. It is especially noted as indicating the purpose of the Imperial government as to the future, that it is prepared to do its utmost to confine the operation of the war for the rest of its duration, to the fighting forces of the belligerents. And that it is determined to impose upon its commanders at sea, the limitations of the recognized rules of international law upon which the government of the United States has insisted."

"Throughout the months which have elapsed since the Imperial government announced on February 4, 1916, its submarine policy, now practically abandoned, the government of the United States has been constantly guided and restrained by motives of friendship arising from that policy. Accepting the Imperial government's declaration of its abandonment of the policy which has so seriously menaced the good relations between the two countries, the government of the United States will rely upon a scrupulous execution henceforth of the now altered policy of the Imperial government such as will remove the principal danger to an interruption of the good relations existing between the United States and Germany."

"The government of the United States feels it necessary to state that it takes it for granted that the Imperial government does not intend to imply that the maintenance of its newly announced policy is in any way contingent upon the course or result of diplomatic negotiations between the government of the United States and any other belligerent government, notwithstanding the fact that certain passages in the Imperial government's note of the fourth instant, might appear to be susceptible of that construction. In order, however, to avoid any possible misunderstanding, the government of the United States notifies the Imperial government that it cannot for a moment entertain, much less discuss, a suggestion that respect by German naval authorities for the rights of citizens of the United States upon the high seas should in any way, or in the slightest degree, be made contingent upon the conduct of any other government affecting the rights of neutrals and non-combatants. Responsibility in such matters is single, not joint; absolute, not negative."

SAFETY-FIRST
SPECIAL TRAIN
BIG SUCCESSFirst Week of Trip Out Makes
Visit of 28,000 and Thousands Turned Away.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The government "safety-first" special train which is to visit several of the towns in West Virginia during the next ten days, having completed the first week of its itinerary, came back to Washington to allow the officials of the party to spend Sunday at home. All of the officials and executive officers were enthusiastic over the success of the first lap of their journey.

Van H. Manning, director of the bureau of mines, who is in charge of an exhibit particularly interesting to West Virginians, said that in the first week of the trip 58,000 persons saw the exhibit and thousands were turned away because they could not get through the crowd.

"The interest that the people seem to have in the work of the federal government," said Mr. Manning, "is remarkable. The gratifying results already obtained show very clearly the need of such a traveling exposition as this one. The pleased and intelligent comments of the people are adding much to the interest which has already been shown by the employees of the government on the train."

The party will leave Cumberland on Tuesday night and from there will go into West Virginia, with stops at Fairmont, Morgantown, Clarksburg, Parkersburg, and possibly Wheeling, besides smaller towns.

DRIVER OF FIRST
HORSE CAR HEREAT SEVENTY-FIVE FEELS BAD, HAS RHEUMATISM, STOMACH TROUBLE BUT TAKES
TANLAC.NOW FEELS YOUNG AND SPRY ONCE MORE HE SAYS.

"I praise Tanlac because I found it suited my troubles exactly and helped me where all other remedies failed," said Walter Burke, 83, 13th street, Wheeling, (seventy-five years old). And who doesn't know Walter Burke in that town? Mr. Burke drove one of the first horse cars in that town away back yonder in the dim past and still is with the Wheeling Traction Company. "Yes sir, I found Tanlac exactly what I needed. I suffered from rheumatism and felt run down and generally poor. Had no appetite and was nervous because my stomach troubled me a lot. Pains in my limbs sometimes made me feel pretty bad and I was so nervous I could hardly write. Then after eating my food wouldn't agree with me, so you will all agree I was in a pretty bad fix, but Tanlac pulled me out alright for now I enjoy a splendid appetite, stomach is O. K. and food agrees with me now. The rheumatic pains are all gone. It quieted my nerves and I feel younger and better in every way. I recommend Tanlac to anybody. It is a wonderful medicine that's all, and I can't say too much in praising it."

When one becomes as old as Mr. Burke they are apt to find difficulty in getting renewed the old energy, appetite, digestion and nerves staided again, but Tanlac surely has proven in hundreds of similar cases that if given the opportunity, so anyone surely may very wisely accept the other's advice, particularly if they have taken everything else. Tanlac is recommended by thousands in this vicinity. It is $1 at Farrell's Drug Store, second door above Odeon theater.—Advertisement.
